

Student Academic Resource Center

Now Hiring Fall 2017 Academic Coaches for our Academic Coaching & Engagement (ACE) Program!

Hey! So I heard you're an Academic Coach. What is that exactly?

Yeah, I am! So, Academic Coaches meet one-on-one with freshmen placed on academic probation. We discuss topics like time management, goal setting, and study skills, among others. Coaches also attend trainings and weekly team meetings.

That sounds like something I would love to do. What are the qualifications to be one?

Coaches should be currently enrolled as an undergraduate student at UCF and have at least 18 credits earned at UCF. You also need a minimum 3.0 GPA. The ACE program also looks for coaches with strong interpersonal, communication, and leadership skills – not to mention, high attention to detail, plus solid time management & organizational skills.

It looks like I qualify then! Where can I find more information?

Awesome! You can visit www.sarc.sdes.ucf.edu/ace or email Brandy Espinosa at brandy.espinosa@ucf.edu.

We are currently only accepting applications from current or former SARC student staff. Please see Brandy's email for the full job description and a link to the online application.
